Flaw in Laulima - For the mail tool in Laulima, there is no record of who gets the messages. (Many would not know that the mail tool is not able to be saved.) New faculty should be told during new employee orientation. A quick fix is to post in the announcement section. Laulima is an open source system.
The email package was programmed by someone else and it needs to be reprogrammed. Not a high priority.

ITS is now in the process of moving to a new learning management system.
Target date is spring 2018.

There is a concern about the co-requisite model. What point do we get to reassess? Can we change back? Every campus is doing a version of the corequisite model. The implementations are different on every campus.
Assessment and data gathering will not be the same across the system. After a year, there is a touch point. After 2 years, there will be a serious assessment. If it is not working, other options will be explored. There are programs for math and English for developmental education. If one is working and the other isn’t working, can we keep the one that is working and change the one that is not?

Any feedback on placement? Students self-report on their placements.
English 100 students are not as strong but English 22 is fine.

New Media Arts (NMA) faculty decided that they want a program fee. What are the steps to do it? There is a policy on who can charge fees. It is a program fee, not course fee. $500 is the limit per semester. The approval goes from this campus, to Morton and to the President. Recommendation - talk about it with your program. How much does it cost? How is it going to be spent? How did you get to the number? It shouldn’t pay for every expense as that is still the responsibility of the college. They are proposing $250. What about part-time students? It would be more convincing if you receive student testimonials supporting a fee. Course (instructional) fee requests only go to the President. If one campus assesses a lab fee and a sister campus doesn’t charge a fee, we may out price ourselves. Recommendation - wait another year since we just had a tuition increase. The only campus that added a technology fee was Maui. The students requested it and they can control how the money is spent.

Which route is better, course or program fee? How many students just take one or two courses? Look historically at the students to see habits of • Sept. 24 is Lauhala Saturday. Will it be monthly? It is exclusively a social event. No decisions will be made.
• Aloha United Way – Talent Show. There will be pledges and a silent auction of gently used objects. We are auctioning a reserved parking stall for one semester. The auction is Sept. 30.
• Why do we have to say Interim Chancellor? For formal correspondences only.
• Radio feed music for the Fall Fest for Student Success did not receive a single complaint. Comments from students: need a map, need signage. The event needs faculty buy-in.
• Pass through for wireless should be announced at every spring convocation.
• Grass on the great lawn. Can we keep it watered? Around the storage unit by Kopiko, there is a thin strip of ground. Are they going to landscape?
