Kapi‘olani Community College has a new system to help us with assessment! Taskstream will make it easier to plan, document and analyze our assessments at the course, program, and institutional levels. A small group is working very hard to set up the system with the following goals in mind:

1. User-friendliness. Let’s make entering outcomes data as easy and REWARDING as possible!

2. Matching our current assessment processes. Our goal is to follow our current assessment processes as much as possible. Taskstream will simply make it easier to document your plans, methods and results.

The most important goal is that entering and evaluating assessment data becomes easier so that you and your colleagues can focus on rich conversations about the student learning that is occurring in your classes, during your counseling sessions, or throughout your program.

Taskstream Tidbit:
Every course, program, academic support service, and administrative area will have a space for entering its outcomes and assessment data.
